Rebuilding a Life after Incarceration

The transition to life after incarceration is a big challenge, and this brochure is designed to help you through this exciting but often difficult time. If you take to heart the following suggestions we think these resources can help you to be successful with rebuilding.

- Do your homework. Make as many arrangements for yourself as you can before you get out. Use this brochure to write to agencies for help.
- Give yourself time to adjust. Don't try to accomplish everything right away. Take time alone or with family and close friends only. Be patient with yourself and know it might take you a while to reach your goals. You may feel depressed or overwhelmed. This is normal - just take some time to heal.
- Ask for help. There is an answer to every question you have. All you need to do is ask. This does not make you weak, it makes you smart. Call the agencies in this pamphlet. If they can't help you, ask them who can. Keep asking until you get the right answer.
- Take care of yourself and surround yourself with people who will affirm your new lifestyle and support you in making positive changes. Stay away from the "old neighborhood." Avoid people and places that are associated with your old behaviors. This may even include family members who are still using drugs or are involved in illegal activity, as hard as it may be.

Tips for Finding a Job

Tax benefits for employers who hire ex-felons

You may be able to encourage someone to hire you by telling him or her of the tax benefits available to employers who hire ex-felons who are from low-income families.

The Federal Work Opportunity Tax Credit (WOTC) encourages employers to hire ex-felons by reducing employers' federal income tax liability by up to $2,400 per eligible employee. Ex-felons who are members of low-income families are eligible when they are new adult employees and work a minimum of 120 or 400 hours. To receive certification that a new employee qualifies the employer for this tax credit, the employer needs to complete only three simple steps. Many employment assistance agencies have these forms. Copies of all forms needed are also available at the American Friends Service Committee, 103 N. Park Avenue, Tucson, AZ 85705 or at www.IRS.gov/faqs/faq-kw208.htm.

Final Words of Encouragement

We all have an inner strength. That strength may be a strong faith in yourself or in a higher power. It could be a strength seldom used, cultivated, or nurtured. You may not have defined it in terms of a value or belief system. It may have failed you in the past, but understand that you have paid your debt to society, and your exit from prison or jail ends a chapter in your life. Now it is up to you how your future will be framed and how you will grow and advance. You need to forgive yourself and also forgive others.

You are not the first to have made a mistake and you won't be the last, but let this be a new chapter in your life. Just remember, the streets still remain the streets and if you seek trouble it will find you. Avoid those old haunts and those old "friends" who are not healthy for you. Break clean with that old environment and those people. This could even include family members if they are using drugs or if they are involved in illegal activity. As painful as it may be, you must take care of yourself and surround yourself with people who will affirm your new lifestyle and support you in making positive changes.

Anticipate problems so they don't overwhelm you. Be patient and take things one step at a time. Prioritize the things that really need to happen (getting a job) and let the rest come when you are ready (finding a new girlfriend or boyfriend). Seek advice and assistance from peers and mentors who seem to be doing it right. Be your own best advocate, because when all is said and done, you alone are responsible for yourself. Let your release be the start of something new.

ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE.

Tips for Finding a Job

Prepare to discuss your background

It is always necessary to be honest about your conviction(s) when completing employment applications. For example if your age and lifestyle were factors in the crime, you may choose to discuss this with honesty either on your application or during your interview. If your life is different now explain the positive changes. Make sure you mention all the job related activities while incarcerated and any activities you feel could make a good impression with employers. Some examples:

- Job related skills or job training before, during, or after your incarceration
- Any positive work evaluations, duties assigned that involved responsibility, any training you conducted or supervisory activities you carried out
- Any educational activities completed-GED, college credits, vocational training
- Any other rehabilitation (life skill classes, personal development classes, religious activities, NA/AA, drug counseling-only if related to your conviction)

Here are some examples you could use when answering the felony conviction. (Remember that these examples should be tailored to you and your circumstances.)

- Non-violent drug conviction-2006.
- Fraudulent schemes-2005
- DUIs -2005, 2008

If you feel comfortable it is recommended that you include an additional comment. These are a few examples (try to make sure they are connected with how you've made personal changes since your conviction)

- Since then I've completed _____(certificate, sobriety programs, job assignments, volunteered)
- I have been sober for over _____
- I am committed to living an honest life.
- I am not proud of the choice I made during that time in my life but since then, I have _____.
- I put it behind me and redirected my life.
- My goal is to help others avoid the mistake I made.
- Since then, I've reunited with my family and want to be a better Mom/Dad.
- I now make healthy choices and have healthy relationships

Avoid using words like "aggravated" or "dangerous". These words are interpreted as violent and may be taken out of context.

The only letter that should accompany an application is a cover letter (if the position requires one), letters of recommendation, and reference letters. Do not write a letter explaining your felony conviction(s).

IDENTIFICATION

Ex-offenders can get an Arizona State ID card from any Arizona Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) office within 15 calendar days of their release using only the affidavit of incarceration ID for a fee of $12. Not applying for a Arizona State ID within the 15 calendar days from your release will result in needing to provide two other forms of verification! If you are age 65 or older and apply within the required 15 calendar days, the fee is waived. If you need to talk to someone at the MVD about an Arizona ID or driver's license, phone the appropriate number below.

Some Tips on Getting Started

This pamphlet is intended to help you begin the process of re-entering the community. It outlines steps you can take before your release as well as some positive steps you can take after release.

Most agencies have criteria to determine who is eligible for their programs, so you can't just show up on their doorsteps and expect them to accommodate you. It's best to write them before your release to find out their requirements. (A sample housing letter is included on page 17.) All agencies listed will accept ex-offenders. However, they may have some restrictions on types of offenses. Listed programs do not accept sex offenders unless the program description specifically states that sex offenders are accepted. Find the type of agency that fits your situation and special needs. Don't waste your time writing to a program that can't help you.

Prepare yourself for the possibility of a short-term emergency shelter stay by obtaining a copy of your TB test results prior to release. Some shelters require a TB card.

Information included in this pamphlet will help you after you are released with places to find help with transportation, employment assistance, job search tactics, health care, individual and family support, and other special programs. Please note that the economic times — and some of the processes for obtaining help — have changed. These Guidelines have changed with it. Some of the categories will appear different from previous versions, and some agencies may no longer be listed. These agencies may still offer services, but only by referral. Every effort has been made to direct you to those places where you can find services most efficiently, without backtracking.

While we have worked hard to ensure that the information in this booklet is up to date, some organizations may have moved, changed phone numbers, or may not exist by the time you contact them. Try not to be discouraged—call the next number and ask them for more information.

If you are being paroled, remember to make immediate contact with the parole office and follow all parole conditions completely. They will also give you information about health care (AHCCCS) and food stamps available through the Arizona Department of Economic Security (DES). You can apply for all benefits available to you, as well as receive job search assistance, and in some cases training, through DES, so be sure to visit a local DES office or apply online as soon as possible. You will need AHCCCS for many of the health, behavioral health, and substance abuse services listed here.

Today a lot of information is available online. Contact your local library for information about instructions and free access to the Internet.

Tips for Finding a Job

If you work hard on your skills and your job search, you will find work — even if it takes longer than you expected. Help with your job search, and in some cases training, is available at One Stop Career Centers. (page 8) They offer the use of phones, faxes, and computers. Many Tucson employers are willing to hire you. Keep at it, and don't give up., Put in as many applications as you possibly can. Remember to keep a log of all the places you have applied, including visits made in person, initial phone calls, and follow up phone calls.

The Application Form

The application form is the most important part of the process. It is how you make your first impression with an employer. Save time by completing one generic application and take that application with you to use as a guide to fill out each new application. If the application asks if you have been convicted of a felony/misdemeanor, answer "yes". It is no longer advised to write "will explain during interview". Employers recommend and often require answering the felony question with facts about your conviction. Please note if the felony question asks "Have you ever been convicted of a felony/misdemeanor" they want ALL of them disclosed. If the question asks "Have you been convicted of a felony within the last 7 years" and your conviction was 8 years ago the answer would be "NO".

AVOID

- Rushing through the application
- Sloppy penmanship
- Employment gaps-blanks from when you were in prison
- Appearing desperate; for example Position Desired: Anything
- Brief descriptions of your job duties
- Leaving blanks on the application

INSTEAD

- Read the application completely before starting
- Take time to print neatly and clearly
- Show the work experience while you were incarcerated
- Use a specific job goal, for example: Position Desired- A full time position where I can offer my skills in adapting and repairing tools, machinery, and equipment
- Be descriptive when writing about your job duties and skills
- Wages earned while incarcerated always write "minimum"
- Under desired salary always put "open" or "negotiable", never write a dollar amount
- Make sure you have correct phone numbers of previous employers and references
- Complete all spaces on the application where information is requested, including "NA" if it is not applicable

Remember that first impressions count; always dress appropriately when looking for work. You never know if the manager might want to speak to you.

Where to Seek Help

PUBLIC BEHAVIORAL HEALTH AND SUBSTANCE ABUSE SERVICES (AHCCCS required)

The economy and the best means of obtaining public behavioral health and substance abuse services have changed, and the Guidelines has changed its presentation of information regarding these services. Today, almost all providers of these services either receive payment from the state's public health benefits system — Arizona Health Care Cost Containment System or AHCCCS. This issue provides information on how to obtain behavioral health and substance abuse services through AHCCCS most directly and supplements this with information on free or very low-cost behavioral health, counseling, and support group services.

How to Get Started

Public behavioral (mental) health and residential substance abuse services are administered by the regional behavioral health authority Community Partnership of Southern Arizona (CPSA). To determine whether you are eligible for behavioral health services, and if so, how to become a member and access services, start by calling CPSA Member Services at (520) 318-6946 or (800) 771-9889.

Select Option 2 if you speak English or a language other than Spanish. (CPSA Member Services utilizes a three-way interpreter calling system to assist individuals who speak languages other than English or Spanish.)

Select Option 9 if you speak Spanish.

If you have a hearing impairment, phone (866) 318-6960 for TTY.

Family Matters

The transition back home can be almost as disruptive for the family as when the person first goes to prison. Many adjustments have been made in that person's absence, and families need to learn how to be a family again. Children will have many questions about how things will be different, and it is important for the whole family to discuss what the new rules and routines will be. Each child reacts differently to having a parent return home, and some may still harbor anger or resentment. We strongly recommend family counseling to assist you in this transition. Many formerly incarcerated persons have questions about how to regain guardian status. In some cases, the person may have an active file at Child Protective Services (CPS) that they need to clear up.

- Arizona's Children Association works to give children safe, permanent homes by helping to keep families together. Located at 2700 S. 8th Avenue, Tucson, AZ 85713. Call (520) 622-7611 or 1-800-947-7611
- Child Protective Services (CPS): There is no standard process for regaining custody of children from CPS after incarceration. Find out who the case manager is and ask them exactly what is required. Call toll free 1-888-767-2445.
- Family and Child Support., Paternity Testing. The Division of Child Support Enforcement locates absent parents, performs paternity tests, and establishes and enforces child support orders and modifications (no fee.) Genetic testing is $30 per person. No charge if father is excluded. 7202 E. Rosewood St., Suite 100, Tucson, AZ 85710. Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:00 am-5:00 pm. 1-800-882-4151.
- Parenting Arizona strengthens families and prevents child abuse and neglect. Offers night, weekend and morning parenting classes and workshops. 4500 E. Speedway Blvd., #88, Tucson, AZ 85712. Call (520) 319-1040.
- KARE Family Center offers support to "Kinship Caregivers", people who are raising a family member's child, such as grandparents who are raising a grandchild, due to divorce or the incarceration of one or both parents. Provides referrals, resources, education and emotional support. Offers support group to caregivers of children with a loved one in prison the second and fourth Friday of each month from 5:30—7:30 p.m., with dinner served at 5:30 p.m. A support group for children ages 7 through 12, the "Shooting Stars" program, is held at the same time. Location: 4710 E. 29th St., Building 7. Call for more information: (520) 323-4476 X 108.

Independent Housing

Tips for the Housing Application Process

Most places ask you to complete an application and, perhaps, have an interview. You may be asked certain background questions, including a question about felony conviction. To prepare for the application and interview process, do the following:

- Bring along your parole officer's contact information
- Bring proof of current employment
- Arrange for 2 - 3 people to be your personal references. These should be people who know and who can speak well of you. You may need to provide their contact information to the apartment manager. Speak to these people in advance so that they are prepared to receive a call about you.
- Make a good impression on the person you speak with by having a presentable appearance - clean clothes and good hygiene are important.
- Check to see whether or not you have good credit.

Many property managers told us that they like to have tenants who are quiet and respectful of their neighbors, so if this fits your personality and lifestyle it would be an effective point to make during an interview. Also many apartments will claim not to house offenders. However, proper attitude and presentation may open the door. Sometimes the nature of the offense makes a difference

Low Cost Housing

You can find a low cost housing list that is updated every two weeks at www.pimacountyhousingsearch.org. You can access a computer and help using it at any Pima County library.

The Tucson Crime-Free Multi-Housing Program

In your search for housing, you may hear property managers and landlords mention that they are part of the Tucson Crime Free Multi-Housing Program. These properties may or may not have signs posted. They may not rent to you once they find out that you have a felony record. Acceptance of your application for renting at these properties will depend on the crime that was committed. Many properties, whether or not they participate in the Crime Free Program, may not accept your application. There is no legal way that we know of to challenge this policy, so we recommend that you search elsewhere for housing.

Dear Sir or Madam:

My name is _____ and I am currently finishing my prison sentence at _____. My release date is _____, and I will have no place to go when I am released.

I am asking that you work with me in advance of my release so that I can have a place to stay and a program to follow instead of becoming homeless. Please send me any necessary paperwork and a list of requirements to qualify for your program so I may collect all that information ahead of time.

I appreciate your assistance, and I eagerly await your reply.

Sincerely,
